

SPORTS

TEAM EXPECT A HARD BATTLE AT ROCKFORD

High School Tossers Prepare for Strenuous Game at Forest City Tomorrow Afternoon.

Members of the Janesville high school basketball squad are performing a double duty this week. Their first duty is to prepare for their semi-final examinations, which come on Thursday and Friday of this week. Their second duty appears to be the hardest of the two, that is, to prepare for the hard contest at Rockford Wednesday afternoon with the Forest City high team.

Coach Winters of the Rockford team was last winter coach of the strong Madison five, who met and defeated Janesville on the local floor by one point. Rockford is rather weak, it is considered a bunch of scrappers, and will give Janesville a hard game. Currier has had his men out extra time this week, and he believes Janesville has a good chance of defeating Rockford.

The contest will be played at about four o'clock, and in order to arrive for the game in time the Janesville aggregation will leave on the one o'clock interurban car. They will return immediately following the game. The lineup will be: Richards, C; Capt. Steukney, R; Rann, C; Stewart, L; O'Grady, R; Jones and Wierick, subs.

State Situation.
Beloit still looms up as a good contender for state honors. The Line City school will undoubtedly be one of the two teams from the southeastern section to be represented at the Appleton meet, which commences on April the first. In the central section, Burshoff looks to be the logical team from that section. Appleton still looks good, as do Fond du Lac, Eau Claire and Wausau may upset the dope before many weeks, as their teams look to be stronger than earlier in the year. La Crosse lost to Tomah, which is a surprise. A return game will be played at La Crosse later. Fond du Lac won from the West Green Bay high five by a score of 20 to 8. Next Friday night the Fondy team go to Appleton to meet the 1914 state champions. This contest is watched with great interest. Scores of games last week are as follows:

Madison 38, Edgerton 20.
Janesville 31, Monroe 9.
Beloit 49, Wisconsin High 28.
Wausau 40, Marshfield 10.
Baraboo 30, Portage 20.
Manitowish 40, Plymouth 17.
Waukegan (Ill.) 33, Racine 20.
Tomah 25, La Crosse 12.
Tomahawk 29, Antigo 19.
Eau Claire 28, Chippewa Falls 19.
Fond du Lac 30, West Green Bay 8.
Appleton 14, Two Rivers 7.

BEECHER TO FIGHT WELSH FOR WHITE

Chicago Lightweight Taken Seriously Ill and Forced to Call Off Match With Champion.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, Jan. 26.—Willie Beecher, the climbing Brooklyn lightweight, has been secured to meet Freddie Welsh, lightweight champion of the world, in the ten round bout, scheduled in the Madison Square Garden, New York, tonight. Charley White, Chicago, who was to have battled the champion, was forced to call off the bout because of illness, being threatened with pneumonia and in critical condition up until last night, when he safely passed the danger point.

The bout between Beecher and Welsh should prove a hard one, as the Brooklyn fighter is in good condition, having recently fought several battles without injury and is a tough fighter for the best of them. White's illness cost him over a thousand dollars for the sale of tickets indicated a record house for the bout.

ARRANGE ICE RACES ON MONTEREY TRACK

Daily Contests Will Be Held and Special Matinee Is Promised For Sunday.

Owners of fast horses are taking a lively interest in the speed contests at the ice course at Monterey and have decided to hold daily try-outs. A quarter mile stretch has been scraped and is in fine condition for speeding. In addition to the daily try-outs it is planned to hold a matinee on Sunday with all the fast horses in the city on deck. E. J. Schmidley, who has charge of the speedway, urges all owners of fast horse to make use of the course and take part in the various contests which will be arranged.

MANROSS SUFFERS FIRST DEFEAT AT VOLLEY BALL

The volley ball team in the business men's class at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, captained by D. D. Manross, lost its first game of the season yesterday afternoon to O'Brien's team by a score of 21 to 7. It was a walk-away game. Wednesday afternoon, Wilcox will meet Manross. This game will

Sport Snap Shots

MORRIS MILLER

The real reason for the flop of Ivy Wingo back to organized baseball has drifted out from Cincinnati, where Ivy will play next season. The lure which O. B. held before Ivy was that he could play with Cincinnati if he would leave the juffers and that doesn't look like much of a lure, but wait! Ivy Wingo is not a married man, but some day in the not very distant future he has hopes of there being a Mrs. Ivy Wingo. The fact that the thatched maskman has already decided who shall have the honor of clinging through life to Ivy Wingo the maskman. And the young lady lives in Cincinnati.

Fight fans who may be lured into Mexico to see the gigantic Jack Joann battle with the herculean Jess Willard will be relieved to know that an insurance company is prepared to issue a policy covering the risk of stopping a few hours in the turbulent republic. The firm issued notice of its plan to insure against the following report by the state department, that Americans who go into Mexico do so at their own risk.

For the second consecutive season Cincinnati will have the unique honor of having the only woman football coach. Last season Mrs. Carrie Burkhardt took hold of the Price Hill school football eleven as coach, and she has arranged to again teach the boys the game. Mrs. Burkhardt is a Vassar College graduate and an all-around athlete. She made a study of college football while in the east, and when she returned put it into practice by engaging to coach the Price Hill school, after she had convinced the school authorities that she knew more about the game than they did.

"Connie Mack needs no additional laurels to remain his rating among the best baseball managers," said one of his fans who has ever known him, but it goes away with his latest plan I guess you'll have to figure him in a class by himself," remarked Joe Kelley, manager of the Toronto club of the International league, an old-time Baltimore Oriole.

He sold the man who was admittedly the strongest individual member of his team as coming out of the sold an integral part of a machine. Most baseball people seem to think that by so doing Connie has disposed of his chance for future opponent, but I doubt if Connie has any such thought. I am inclined to the belief that he had mapped out a definite scheme of action, which included the acquisition of Larry Law, and the shifting of McInnis to second, and I am further inclined to the belief that Connie by no means feels that he has hopelessly weakened himself.

New York's premier fistic promoters are preparing to go out of business. They say they can't continue longer while the topnotch boxers demand as much for their services as they do now. Champions and near-champions are demanding all the way from $5,000 to $15,000 for meeting a very ordinary opponent in a ten-round no-decision bout. The promoters have been meeting these demands but the signs are that they won't continue to do so much longer. Unless some of the topnotchers decide to take less for their work, a scarcity of high-class bouts is in sight.

Though there is not the slightest chance of Manager Griffith considering any sort of a proposition which would send Eddie Foster to some other club in the league, the story continues to be revived that Connie is very anxious to obtain the Nationals' brilliant third baseman. Mr. Comiskey probably does not differ from a lot of other big league ball men in this respect, but there is not the slightest inclination on the part of Griffith to sanction any proposition involving Foster. It is questionable if there is a team in the league which would not be benefited by the acquisition of Foster. He is a capable, loyal ball player, and Griffith would be standing in his own light to even consider any proposition for him. All things considered, Foster is as valuable as any man on the Washington team.

President Gaffney of the Bostonians has made an official announcement that the effect that Braves will not trade Outfielder Joe Connolly to the Pittsburgh Pirates. He said Connolly would not be allowed to get away from the Braves under any circumstances. Gaffney also said there was no truth in the report that Third Baseman Deal had jumped to the Feds.

Jack Knight, former Athletic, Yankee, Red Sox, National and Nap, and last year's Cleveland Bearcat shortstop, will pilot the Cleveland team in the American Association during the 1915 campaign. Knight's career on the diamond has not been an easy one. It seems only a short time ago that he was known as the Schoolboy Wonder and yet here he has him now a veteran player, striving to make good in his first position as a manager. Knight was born October 6, 1886, and thus is twenty-eight years old, pretty far along for a ball player.

Now is a good time, to sell that stove you have no use for.

ROLL 1081 AT THE MILLER TOURNAMENT

Dickerson and Osborn Topple Highest Score Made in Meet at Alleys Last Night.

The second week of the big bowling tournament at Miller's alleys opened last evening, with a record-breaking score for the present year. Dickerson and Osborn, the gold fish team, rolling in the doubles, were able to collect 1081 pins and set the high mark in the doubles at the tourney thus far. While there are many other quick bowlers billed to meet in the doubles this week, it is likely that the good score of last evening will not stand. Milton F. Cook and Dr. S. F. Richards are to aid each other tonight in the doubles, and they should furnish some interesting rolling. Kueck and O'Grady, rolling in the doubles in the other game last evening, counted 978 pins. There will be two single games tonight, and will be rolled by Pengra and W. Cronin. Last night's scores are:

Dickerson189	204	362
Osborn202	141	188—1081
Kueck163	147	176
O'Grady160	171	168—978

SHANKS HAD ONLY FEW WEEKS TO LIVE FIVE YEARS AGO

Howard Shanks.
There's not a fan in the country who, gazing on Howard Shanks now, would believe that only five years ago he was told that he could live no more than a few weeks and that he would die a victim of consumption. Shanks is now one of the star outfielders of the American league, a husky lad, with one of the best throwing arms in the game. He is with the Washington club.

OAKLAND FIELDER JOINS MORMONS

Elmer Zacher, former Oakland outfielder, will henceforth show in the Coast league parks in the uniform of Salt Lake. The deal making him a Mormon was put through a few days ago. Zacher's place in the Oakland lineup will be filled by Phil Koerner, who played first for Topeka last year and was the second best run getter in the league.

SETS BOWLING MARK IN CITY; ROLLS 278

Dr. F. G. Wolcott Spares But Once in Spectacular Game at Y. M. C. A. Alleys Last Evening.

A bowling record that will undoubtedly stand for some time, was set last evening at the Y. M. C. A. alleys by Dr. F. G. Wolcott, who toppled over 278 pins, with 23 pins of a perfect score. His only break was in the third frame when he picked a spare instead of a strike. Wolcott struck out, getting a total of eleven strikes and one spare during the game. This mark of 278 is the highest ever made on the Y. M. C. A. alleys or anywhere else in the city in many years. At Miller's alleys Guernsey Abraham has rolled 267 this year, while John Gsell and Sietly Hill have secured 233 each at the Y. M. C. A. alleys. Paul Richards topped over 234 pins last season at the association alleys, which record was broken by Wolcott last night. Wolcott's score by frames is as follows: 28-48-98-128-158-183-218-248-278.

Big Match Tonight.
The second match between Miller's first team and the Y. M. C. A. quint will be staged tonight at the association alleys. Both teams are composed of Janesville's best bowling material, and the match is awaited with considerable interest.

A classified ad in The Gazette will cost but a trifle, but will tell many people what you have that you wish trade or sell.

Amusements

AT MYERS THEATRE.

Coming to the Myers Theatre on February 8th, and 9th, with a matinee on Tuesday the 9th, will be DeWolf Hopper and the Gilbert and Sullivan Opera Company fresh from their success at the Auditorium Theatre in Chicago, where they are now playing to capacity business.

On Monday evening, February 8th, the opera of "The Mikado" will be presented, on "Tuesday" evening a great double bill will be given, "Pirates" and "The Trial by Jury," and on Tuesday matinee "The Pirates of Penzance."

The company associated with Mr. Hopper contains such well known artists as Idelle Patterson, Arthur Aldridge, Kate Condon, Gladys Caldwell, Henry Waterson, Arthur Cunningham, John Willard, Una Brooks, Alice McComb, Maude Mordant, Henry Smith and a singing chorus of great excellence.

De Wolf Hopper as "Koko" in "The Mikado" at Myers Theatre, Monday evening, February 8th.

AT MYERS THEATRE.

"The Prince of Pilsen," the tuneful musical comedy by Frank Pixley and Gustav Luders will be the attraction at Myers Theatre Tuesday evening, February 2. This entertainment seems to bloom in perennial popularity and its repeated engagements do not dull appreciation of its tuneful music and romantic story. Its play of humor and the poesy of its lyrics. The company to be seen here is said to be one of the best ever chosen to interpret the musical comedy and its personnel includes John W. Ransone, Edward T. Mora, Burke Scott, Eda von Luke, Regina Richards, Claudia Rogers, Geraldine De Rose, Dorothy Delmore and others equally as well known. As in the past, the chorus is said to represent a combination of good voices and good looks.

Regina Richards in "The Prince of Pilsen" at Myers Theatre, Tuesday evening, February 2nd.

AT MYERS THEATRE.

"Spartacus," George Kleine's latest photodramatic success, is declared to be the most satisfying entertainment yet conceived in the broad field of motion photography. It is asserted for scope, magnitude and extravagant splendor and liberality, never to have been equalled. It is announced as the attraction at Myers Theatre, matinee and evening, Wednesday, January 27th.

Those who have seen "Spartacus" say dramatically it is marvelous, and as a spectacle superb, being presented with a strength that is surprising and with such a mastery of pantomime and expression as the Italian School creates. So remarkable and realistic is their acting it is hard to maintain the illusion of the camera.

Romance, history and tragedy are portrayed in this absorbingly interesting screened story of the revolt of the gladiators against Roman domination. Gladiatorial combats, battles between the rebellious Titans and the Romans and killing in the arena by the lions of a jealous rival of Spartacus are to many the most entertaining scenes. Others are more profoundly delicious with the romantic side that revolves about the overpowering love of Spartacus for the daughter of a Roman Consul that was sweeter to him than his liberty. The spectacular scenic effects are described as simply marvelous—perfect gems of artistic beauty. Its massively magnificent settings give out an impression of solidity and im-

"The Circus Man" at the Apollo.

low gladiator and sweetheart of his sister, precipitated the revolt that is so thrillingly flashed on the screen in this photodramatic marvel in eight parts, subdivided into three acts, which is admittedly the superlative note in animated photography.

AT THE APOLLO.

Evelyn Thaw Tonight.

Tonight the curious will have an opportunity of seeing Evelyn Nesbit Thaw in a play. The woman that has had probably more notoriety than any other actress will be featured in the Lubin 5-part photo drama, "Treads of Destiny." Those who delight in an interesting play will appreciate this picture for its true worth.

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw portrays the role of Miriam Grunstein whose father is sent to Siberia while she is still small. She is sent to a convent and later becomes a ward of Ivan Rusnak, chief of the secret police, of Russia. He wins her love and makes her his mistress.

The story of her efforts to free herself from this man is most vividly told in pictures.

"The Circus Man."

On Wednesday, Jesse L. Lasky presents Theodore Roberts in the great play full of American circus atmosphere, "The Circus Man," taken from George Barr McCutcheon's novel, "The Rose in the Ring."

The story of "The Circus Man" is a vivid, telling narrative. It is a vivid, telling narrative of the saw dust ring and is replete with many beautiful scenes like all the Lasky productions.

"The Circus Man" will be seen at the Apollo on Wednesday for both matinee and evening.

SORRY HE SPOKE.

Binks—I have spoke in the drug-gists and he advised me that I should Doctor—Oh he gave you some idiotic advice, I suppose?

Binks—Well, he advised me to see you.

IF A STORM BLOWS UP, IT MEANS HARD WORK FOR THE MATE.

I DON'T MIND HARD WORK WHEN I HAVE THE COMFORT OF THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW

THE GOOD JUDGE GETS A BROAD HINT FROM A BIG MAN.

CHANGING tobacco every few weeks used to be the regular thing with tobacco chewers, but not so now with the men who use "Right-Cut," the Real Tobacco Chew. Why, they like it so well they can't help talking about it to their friends.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—cut fine, short shred—seasoned and sweetened just enough, cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is the Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and spices. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY
50 Union Square, New York

BUY FROM DEALER OR SEND 10¢ STAMPS TO US

The Janesville Gazette

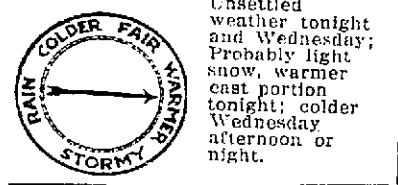

New Bldg. 200-201 E. Milwaukee St.

Entered at the postoffice at Janesville, Wis., as second class mail matter.

BUSINESS OFFICE OPEN SATURDAY EVENING.

Member of Associated Press. Member of Wisconsin Daily League.

WEATHER FORECAST.

DAILY EDITION

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION

One Year	$6.00
One Month	.50
Three Months	1.50
Six Months	3.00
By Mail Cash in Advance
One Year	$4.00
Six Months	2.00
Three Months	1.00
By Mail Cash in Advance
One Year	$4.00
Six Months	2.00
Three Months	1.00

The publication of Obituary Notices, Resolutions, Cards of Thanks, etc., can be made at 10c per line for the first 10 words each. Church and lodge announcements free. Insertion except those announcing an event for which a charge is made. These and subsequent insertions of any notice are made at line prices.

The Gazette does not knowingly accept false or fraudulent advertising or other advertising of an objectionable nature. Every advertiser in its columns is printed with the understanding that the advertiser and the representative make. Readers of the Gazette will not be held responsible for any failure on the part of an advertiser to make good any representation contained in a Gazette advertisement.

GAZETTE DECEMBER CIRCULATION.

Sworn circulation statement of the Daily Gazette circulation of December, 1914.

Days	Copies	Days	Copies
1	7675	17	7649
2	7675	18	7676
3	7675	19	7676
4	7674	20	Sunday
5	7674	21	7679
6	Sunday	22	7600
7	7677	23	7600
8	7677	24	7600
9	7692	25	Holiday
10	7692	26	7642
11	7692	27	Sunday
12	7694	28	7642
13	7694	29	Sunday
14	7694	30	7642
15	7694	31	8000
16	7648

Total 199,691

199,691 divided by 26, total number of issues, 7680 Daily Average.

This is a correct report of the circulation of the Janesville Daily Gazette for December, 1914, and represents the actual numbers of papers printed and circulated.

H. H. GILLES, Mgr. Subscribed and sworn to before me this second day of January, 1915. (Seal) O. C. HONIGBERGER, Notary Public. My commission expires July 26, 1918.

OPTIMISTIC TALK.

It is refreshing to quote from the New York Times on the optimistic talk of Mr. Gary before the Merchants' association of New York City at a recent meeting on the future of the country. It is along the lines of business increase that the Gazette has preached for months past as soon as the American people gained sufficient confidence in themselves. Mr. Gary said:

"The extreme optimism of today, if the people of this country take advantage of their opportunities, will ten years hence be considered to have been very conservative in his estimate of future prosperity." It is even better to hear him say, and to agree with him, that the moral basis of this future prosperity is as substantial as the material basis. Business management, morals, and conduct are on a higher level than ever before, and "there is more co-operation between all classes of people, a recognition to a greater degree than ever before that it is to the advantage of each to have all others prosper." Preparation for prosperity is Mr. Gary's remedy for present troubles. It is a gem of thought, of purest ray serene, when contrasted with the pinchback philosophy which preaches a gospel of despair because of the troubles it has caused.

"The redistribution of existing wealth is the proposal which comes trippingly to the tongue of many who have the ear of the public, or who clamor for access to it. All the wealth there is counts for little beside the wealth that shall be. The creation of new wealth, a new abundance greater than the world has ever known, is easily within the capacity of our institutions and of our organization of industry. No doubt the time will never come when there shall be no man with a grievance. But the time recently was, and soon shall be again, when more men work with either hand or brain can get more for their effort than at any other time or place since the experience of man began. This can be attained, and there is no promise that this within the gift of those who would start by attacking and destroying the progress already made.

"How happens it that the happiness of tomorrow is not ours today? Mr. Gary says that there is the same capacity for employment of all that ever there was. Many are idle, but not because they could not be employed producing what others want. Wants are not satisfied, and the satisfaction of wants is the object of work. That is not the idea of those whose idea is that the object of work is to produce wages, and that more wages and less work is the remedy for want. Wages could not be increased so as to give satisfaction to all. The satisfaction of wants by restricting production, and by limiting work to a monopoly of the 'aristocracy' of dear labor, is a theory that refutes itself. We are less happy than we were through following upon the false leaders who promised everything to everybody. Wages were to be raised by law, and goods were to be cheapened by law. Organizers of prosperity were to be 'dissolved' at least, and if possible to be jailed. The people were to vote it, and it was so to be. Men were not to look for their prosperity to their work and their merits, but to politics and statutes. The faults were all on one side. Big men were too big. It was never suggested that the little politicians were too little. The result was an interruption of prosperity, not the destruction of it, nor the production of misery by the necessary working of our economic or political institutions. The machine was reversed by those who thought it was going too fast, or too slow in its direction. "In Mr. Gary's modest words, 'there was a decided sentiment, important and quite extensive, against successful business.' He admits that business had its faults, and he treats all too lightly the faults of other classes than those of business, which he particularly represents. But the faults of the correctors of faults were even worse. Vicious bulls were introduced, and these it was a disposition to go beyond reason and justice in the administration of the law. Capital became frightened; investors were deterred; the enterprising and aggressive discontinued their efforts. There has been a disposition to wait until the lines of legality were made so clear that enterprise could see its way to a profit. That is why jobs are wanted and money is plenty, while capital is scarce.

That is the testimony of one of the biggest givers of jobs in the world. Does he not speak the truth? Can a capitalist be compelled to make work when he is losing money? Can any man create prosperity for another man except by pauperizing him? Is not the true remedy for lack of work the removal of the obstacles between men and work? To late to believe that the people are slaving these truths, when the figures show that millions changed their minds and their votes at the last election? There is indeed a new temper of affairs among the people, but there are still remnants of the old disposition among rulers. It is true that the votes which prosperity cannot produce are deserting it. But prosperity for all deserving it will be the result of letting the makers of prosperity return to their jobs.

TO STRIKE TERROR.

The raid of German aircraft on England recently was possibly in pursuance of a Germany policy that does not seem to have been very well understood. It has evidently been the German purpose from the first to spread terror among the civilian populations of the allied countries so that they may bring pressure to bear upon their governments to end the war. The dropping of bombs on Antwerp and Paris was denounced as purposeless; the sowing of the North Sea with mines was called savage. French writers have exhausted themselves in attacks upon the scientific burning of towns and villages. The assault by sea upon Scarborough, Whitby, and Hartlepool was thought to be merely vindictive. But it may be that they all had their purposes and were part of a well thought out and deliberate policy.

The explanation based on the theory that Germany is trying to strike terror into the hearts of civilians in France and England at least makes their operations understandable. As military operations they are devoid of sense and meaning. They do not weaken the enemy's armed forces, they cannot hasten the end of the war as it would be brought nearer by great victories in the field. They resemble pretty closely the raids of the Indians upon white settlements in the early days of our history. Houses burned, scalps were taken, women and babies were tomahawked. Undoubtedly the scientists were terrorized—with the result that they laid in new stores of powder and shot and put an end to reckless raids. Instead of bearing fruit in mass meetings demanding that the war end, Germany's air raids on England may serve only to stimulate recruiting.

Certainly the English will get over the fear of Zeppelins. It appears likely that the latest foray was carried out by some smaller type of airship, if not by aeroplanes, but the Londoners as well as the people of Paris have plainly been in terror of airship raids. What the Zeppelin dirigibles may do in future is unknown, but thus far the airship as a war machine is a fizzle. To drop bombs that kill old men, children, and nursemaids, make a splash in the sea somewhere near a warship, and then be driven away by similar aeroplanes or terrestrial gunfire—these are not effective exploits of war. And the futility of the airship, after all the antecedent proclaiming of its dread possibilities, ought to reassure our English friends. We think an actuary would easily figure out a demonstration that any given person in London stands in greater peril of being devoured by lions in the streets of that city than of being blown out of this pleasant world by a Zeppelin bomb. It is remembered that only a few days ago a lion was loose in the streets of New York, and lions are dangerous animals.

Despite the opinion of eastern newspapers the "Wisconsin Idea" is not in such serious danger as was thought. The "Wisconsin Idea" is the viewpoint of the Wisconsin voters and while the original medical laws will be amended to suit conditions, it will still be the "Wisconsin Idea" because it is the consensus of opinion of the Wisconsin taxpayers and voters.

The present legislature is made up of men of agricultural persuasion and this is meant that the majority of the members are men of good, sound common sense who have views of their own on the question of taxation and business, and are not to be swept away by the archangels of reform as in past sessions.

England still retains the supremacy of the sea and if the German fleet had any hopes of sailing a broom to their mast heads as did the Dutch admiral a few centuries ago when he sailed up the Thames and devastated the shipping, and sweeping the North Sea they have found out their mistake.

Indications point to the fact that Germany has not by any means reached the end of its resources and now comes the report that its armies are to be sent to the Austrian frontier and the Austrians sent to the western battle line to see if results can be changed.

KEEPING IN GOOD CONDITION Many people suffer from indigestion and constipation and do not know it. A feeling of dullness and languidness, bitter taste in the mouth, headache, biliousness, nervousness, and a general feeling of "not being right"—can be traced to sluggish bowels and torpid liver. Foley Cathartic Tablets cleanse the system, arouse you "feel good" and "light, energetic and ambitious." Sold by W. T. Sherer, druggist.

On the Spur of the Moment

ROY K. MOULTON

Voice The Deadly Routine. (Upstairs): "John, have you brought in the rubber plant?" "Yes." "Covered up the goldfish?" "Yes." "Locked all the doors and windows?" "Aye-aye." "Put the cut down collar?" "Assuredly." "Covered the canary?" "Sure." "Fixed the furnace?" "You know it." "Wound the clocks?" "Uh-huh." "Let the water out of the automobile radiator?" "Yep-ee." "Turned off the light in the cellar?" "Undoubtedly." "Bring in the baby cab?" "Certainly." "Put out the milk bottles?" "Yes-ess-ee." And then he starts in and does as many of these things as he can remember.

Too Good. In the soft freight even the boarding house sitting room looked cozy and attractive. The warmth and comfort thawed the heart of the "stuck" boarder. In an expansive moment he turned to the landlady, who was his only companion in the room. Clapping her hand roily he murmured, "Will you be my wife?" The woman did not start or blush; no maidenly coyness shone from her clear, cold eyes, as she replied thoughtfully: "Let me see; you have been here four years. You have never been grumbled at the food or failed to pay my bill promptly and without question. So, sir, I am sorry but I cannot marry you. You're too good a boarder to be put on the free list."

Uncle Abner. One way to forget all of your troubles is to go and ask how much your taxes are. Simplified spelling in Poland would end one of the horrors of war, all right. Hank Tumms says if he swore off all the habits that he ought to swear off, life would hardly be worth the living. It generally takes two to start a quarrel, but not when a fellow is married.

Old man Hicks stepped on his whiskers the other day and fell and broke three or four of the commandments all to pieces.

country from having to improvise an army in war time by providing a reservoir of partly trained men, was passed with only a few dissenting votes.

Your feet would ache if you walked from house to house of all real estate men in looking for the places where there are rooms for rent. A few minutes study of the Gazette Want desirable places.

There are always bargains in the classified columns.

Thompson, manager of a film service and is backed by representative business men.

MOVIE FILMS TAKE THE PLACE OF SCHOOLBOOKS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Cleveland, Jan. 26.—Education under forced draught, founded on the theory that "seeing is believing" and taught exclusively with motion picture films is the purpose of the latest institution of learning here.

Reading, writing, arithmetic, geography, domestic science with all the branches and many other subjects will be taught with the aid of films. Pupils will be enrolled as in other schools. Pencils and paper will be used only for examination at various intervals and all papers will be graded in the customary manner. The scheme is headed by C. G.

HOW TO CURE A LA GRIPPE

"Coughs that hang on" demand treatment. Stop and think! Reason and common sense tell you that it is folly to "grin and bear it." Those racking la grippe coughs that wrench the body and cause soreness and pains in the lungs yield more quickly to Foley's Honey and Tar than to any other treatment. Forty years' record of successes proves this. For coughs, colds, croup, and other distressing ailments of the throat, chest, lungs, larynx and bronchial tubes, you can find nothing that will compare with this reliable remedy—Sold by W. T. Sherer, Druggist.

At a meeting of the Incorporated Association of Headmasters in the London suburb of F. H. Templer said in regard to the New Zealand system of universal military training in the schools: "While conscription produces militarism, national training produces a man whose every interest is bound up with the maintenance of peace."

Another speaker pointed out that military drill and rifle shooting were being asked who could accuse the Swiss of militarism.

A resolution declaring that military training in the schools would save the quarrel, but not when a fellow is married.

Old man Hicks stepped on his whiskers the other day and fell and broke three or four of the commandments all to pieces.

country from having to improvise an army in war time by providing a reservoir of partly trained men, was passed with only a few dissenting votes.

Your feet would ache if you walked from house to house of all real estate men in looking for the places where there are rooms for rent. A few minutes study of the Gazette Want desirable places.

There are always bargains in the classified columns.

Thompson, manager of a film service and is backed by representative business men.

MOVIE FILMS TAKE THE PLACE OF SCHOOLBOOKS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Cleveland, Jan. 26.—Education under forced draught, founded on the theory that "seeing is believing" and taught exclusively with motion picture films is the purpose of the latest institution of learning here.

Reading, writing, arithmetic, geography, domestic science with all the branches and many other subjects will be taught with the aid of films. Pupils will be enrolled as in other schools. Pencils and paper will be used only for examination at various intervals and all papers will be graded in the customary manner. The scheme is headed by C. G.

MILITARY TRAINING ADVOCATED IN SCHOOL

Question is a Live One in All Parts of Great Britain—Would Furnish New Officers.

(Correspondence of The A. P.)

London, Jan. 26.—The question of military training in the schools is now a live one over all Britain, and the chief agitators are not army men but teachers. Lack of proper material for officers and injured the army and the inadequately officered territorial force, is one of the most serious problems of the war. All of the higher schools have been called on for subalterns, as the British "Tommy" objects to serving under any officer not born a gentleman. The teachers feel that they were in a sense to blame for not having given their students some elemental preliminary training further than that of the small student officers' corps.

At a meeting of the Incorporated Association of Headmasters in the London suburb of F. H. Templer said in regard to the New Zealand system of universal military training in the schools: "While conscription produces militarism, national training produces a man whose every interest is bound up with the maintenance of peace."

Another speaker pointed out that military drill and rifle shooting were being asked who could accuse the Swiss of militarism.

A resolution declaring that military training in the schools would save the quarrel, but not when a fellow is married.

Old man Hicks stepped on his whiskers the other day and fell and broke three or four of the commandments all to pieces.

country from having to improvise an army in war time by providing a reservoir of partly trained men, was passed with only a few dissenting votes.

Your feet would ache if you walked from house to house of all real estate men in looking for the places where there are rooms for rent. A few minutes study of the Gazette Want desirable places.

There are always bargains in the classified columns.

Thompson, manager of a film service and is backed by representative business men.

MOVIE FILMS TAKE THE PLACE OF SCHOOLBOOKS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Cleveland, Jan. 26.—Education under forced draught, founded on the theory that "seeing is believing" and taught exclusively with motion picture films is the purpose of the latest institution of learning here.

Reading, writing, arithmetic, geography, domestic science with all the branches and many other subjects will be taught with the aid of films. Pupils will be enrolled as in other schools. Pencils and paper will be used only for examination at various intervals and all papers will be graded in the customary manner. The scheme is headed by C. G.

HOW TO CURE A LA GRIPPE

"Coughs that hang on" demand treatment. Stop and think! Reason and common sense tell you that it is folly to "grin and bear it." Those racking la grippe coughs that wrench the body and cause soreness and pains in the lungs yield more quickly to Foley's Honey and Tar than to any other treatment. Forty years' record of successes proves this. For coughs, colds, croup, and other distressing ailments of the throat, chest, lungs, larynx and bronchial tubes, you can find nothing that will compare with this reliable remedy—Sold by W. T. Sherer, Druggist.

At a meeting of the Incorporated Association of Headmasters in the London suburb of F. H. Templer said in regard to the New Zealand system of universal military training in the schools: "While conscription produces militarism, national training produces a man whose every interest is bound up with the maintenance of peace."

Another speaker pointed out that military drill and rifle shooting were being asked who could accuse the Swiss of militarism.

A resolution declaring that military training in the schools would save the quarrel, but not when a fellow is married.

Old man Hicks stepped on his whiskers the other day and fell and broke three or four of the commandments all to pieces.

country from having to improvise an army in war time by providing a reservoir of partly trained men, was passed with only a few dissenting votes.

Your feet would ache if you walked from house to house of all real estate men in looking for the places where there are rooms for rent. A few minutes study of the Gazette Want desirable places.

There are always bargains in the classified columns.

Thompson, manager of a film service and is backed by representative business men.

MOVIE FILMS TAKE THE PLACE OF SCHOOLBOOKS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Cleveland, Jan. 26.—Education under forced draught, founded on the theory that "seeing is believing" and taught exclusively with motion picture films is the purpose of the latest institution of learning here.

Reading, writing, arithmetic, geography, domestic science with all the branches and many other subjects will be taught with the aid of films. Pupils will be enrolled as in other schools. Pencils and paper will be used only for examination at various intervals and all papers will be graded in the customary manner. The scheme is headed by C. G.

HOW TO CURE A LA GRIPPE

"Coughs that hang on" demand treatment. Stop and think! Reason and common sense tell you that it is folly to "grin and bear it." Those racking la grippe coughs that wrench the body and cause soreness and pains in the lungs yield more quickly to Foley's Honey and Tar than to any other treatment. Forty years' record of successes proves this. For coughs, colds, croup, and other distressing ailments of the throat, chest, lungs, larynx and bronchial tubes, you can find nothing that will compare with this reliable remedy—Sold by W. T. Sherer, Druggist.

At a meeting of the Incorporated Association of Headmasters in the London suburb of F. H. Templer said in regard to the New Zealand system of universal military training in the schools: "While conscription produces militarism, national training produces a man whose every interest is bound up with the maintenance of peace."

Another speaker pointed out that military drill and rifle shooting were being asked who could accuse the Swiss of militarism.

A resolution declaring that military training in the schools would save the quarrel, but not when a fellow is married.

Old man Hicks stepped on his whiskers the other day and fell and broke three or four of the commandments all to pieces.

Myers Theatre

SPECIAL TONIGHT 10c.

Universal Picture Program.

"The Sin of Olga Brandt"

Featuring Pauline Bush in a two-part human interest drama

Through a Knot Hole

A screamingly funny L-Ko comedy

The Wayward Son

A rural drama.

Myers Theatre

Tuesday Night, February 2

Enormous All Star Revival

The Prince of Pilsen

Pixley & Luder's Musical Comedy with John W. Ran-some.

Company of 62, Chorus of 37

Pilsen's Own Orchestra.

Prices:—Lower floor, $1.50; First 4 rows balcony, $1.00; Remainder balcony, 75c; Gallery, 50c; Boxes, $2.00.

Seats Monday—Mail Orders Now.

RAISIN BREAD TOMORROW

10c for a large loaf. Order early.

GOLDEN MALT

The Split Loaf.

Best Bread Made in Janesville.

ROMAN MEAL BREAD

Cheaper than meat, the great health bread.

GOLVIN'S BAKING CO.

Where Cleanliness is a Habit.

NURSE WANTS

There are always bargains in the classified columns.

Thompson, manager of a film service and is backed by representative business men.

MOVIE FILMS TAKE THE PLACE OF SCHOOLBOOKS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Cleveland, Jan. 26.—Education under forced draught, founded on the theory that "seeing is believing" and taught exclusively with motion picture films is the purpose of the latest institution of learning here.

Reading, writing, arithmetic, geography, domestic science with all the branches and many other subjects will be taught with the aid of films. Pupils will be enrolled as in other schools. Pencils and paper will be used only for examination at various intervals and all papers will be graded in the customary manner. The scheme is headed by C. G.

HOW TO CURE A LA GRIPPE

"Coughs that hang on" demand treatment. Stop and think! Reason and common sense tell you that it is folly to "grin and bear it." Those racking la grippe coughs that wrench the body and cause soreness and pains in the lungs yield more quickly to Foley's Honey and Tar than to any other treatment. Forty years' record of successes proves this. For coughs, colds, croup, and other distressing ailments of the throat, chest, lungs, larynx and bronchial tubes, you can find nothing that will compare with this reliable remedy—Sold by W. T. Sherer, Druggist.

At a meeting of the Incorporated Association of Headmasters in the London suburb of F. H. Templer said in regard to the New Zealand system of universal military training in the schools: "While conscription produces militarism, national training produces a man whose every interest is bound up with the maintenance of peace."

Another speaker pointed out that military drill and rifle shooting were being asked who could accuse the Swiss of militarism.

A resolution declaring that military training in the schools would save the quarrel, but not when a fellow is married.

Old man Hicks stepped on his whiskers the other day and fell and broke three or four of the commandments all to pieces.

country from having to improvise an army in war time by providing a reservoir of partly trained men, was passed with only a few dissenting votes.

Your feet would ache if you walked from house to house of all real estate men in looking for the places where there are rooms for rent. A few minutes study of the Gazette Want desirable places.

There are always bargains in the classified columns.

Thompson, manager of a film service and is backed by representative business men.

MOVIE FILMS TAKE THE PLACE OF SCHOOLBOOKS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Cleveland, Jan. 26.—Education under forced draught, founded on the theory that "seeing is believing" and taught exclusively with motion picture films is the purpose of the latest institution of learning here.

Reading, writing, arithmetic, geography, domestic science with all the branches and many other subjects will be taught with the aid of films. Pupils will be enrolled as in other schools. Pencils and paper will be used only for examination at various intervals and all papers will be graded in the customary manner. The scheme is headed by C. G.

HOW TO CURE A LA GRIPPE

"Coughs that hang on" demand treatment. Stop and think! Reason and common sense tell you that it is folly to "grin and bear it." Those racking la grippe coughs that wrench the body and cause soreness and pains in the lungs yield more quickly to Foley's Honey and Tar than to any other treatment. Forty years' record of successes proves this. For coughs, colds, croup, and other distressing ailments of the throat, chest, lungs, larynx and bronchial tubes, you can find nothing that will compare with this reliable remedy—Sold by W. T. Sherer, Druggist.

At a meeting of the Incorporated Association of Headmasters in the London suburb of F. H. Templer said in regard to the New Zealand system of universal military training in the schools: "While conscription produces militarism, national training produces a man whose every interest is bound up with the maintenance of peace."

Another speaker pointed out that military drill and rifle shooting were being asked who could accuse the Swiss of militarism.

A resolution declaring that military training in the schools would save the quarrel, but not when a fellow is married.

Old man Hicks stepped on his whiskers the other day and fell and broke three or four of the commandments all to pieces.

country from having to improvise an army in war time by providing a reservoir of partly trained men, was passed with only a few dissenting votes.

Your feet would ache if you walked from house to house of all real estate men in looking for the places where there are rooms for rent. A few minutes study of the Gazette Want desirable places.

There are always bargains in the classified columns.

Thompson, manager of a film service and is backed by representative business men.

MOVIE FILMS TAKE THE PLACE OF SCHOOLBOOKS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Cleveland, Jan. 26.—Education under forced draught, founded on the theory that "seeing is believing" and taught exclusively with motion picture films is the purpose of the latest institution of learning here.

Reading, writing, arithmetic, geography, domestic science with all the branches and many other subjects will be taught with the aid of films. Pupils will be enrolled as in other schools. Pencils and paper will

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat BY RUTH CAMERON

ON SELECTING AN OCCUPATION.

The folly of picking out a business or a profession merely because some friend has succeeded at it or because there seems to be good money in it, or for such merely external reasons, has been suggested to me as a subject by a kind and intelligent letter friend.

It is a subject upon which I can easily write, because I feel warmly about it.

The reasons for a man's choosing any particular occupation should come primarily from within and not without.

External reasons must have some influence, of course, but I think they should be decidedly secondary.

What am I particularly fitted to do? should be the question any man or woman selecting a life occupation should ask himself or herself.

What way do my individual characteristics and abilities open to me?

What Do You Find Easy? We all find some things hard and some things easy. One person can state things clearly in a letter; another makes friends quickly; another is neat and accurate by nature and likes details; another has excellent taste as her strongest asset; another likes to puzzle things out, etc., etc. These abilities are all stock in trade, and they should be carefully examined by their owners before they choose to try to sell their services in order to determine the market where such services will be most in demand and bring the highest price. And the man or woman who fails to do that is just as foolish as a wholesale merchant would be if he tried to sell a stationer's stock in trade to a meat merchant.

My letter friend gave an interesting example of one of these ability merchants who is crying good wares in the wrong stall.

Why One Man Failed. "We often see failures and successes side by side in the same business," he says, "and almost always well educated men who let a good property slip through his hands keeping stores of different kinds in various places. He says, 'I can't make good. I attend to business and work hard, and I've never been at all extravagant. It is plain to see and many others that he hasn't the practical qualities—the his business. But he doesn't realize that he needs in his skill in buying or the ability to make people pay up that are needed in his to study himself. He thinks because he is well educated and intelligent as others who do make a success, that it must be just bad luck. And yet found himself mediocre in business. He studied himself and the business and decided that one of his greatest assets in college had been his ability to size men up, and asked to be transferred to the hiring department where he made a decided success."

"Know thyself" is a maxim which applies to many of the relations of life and not least pertinently to business.

Why One Man Failed. "We often see failures and successes side by side in the same business," he says, "and almost always well educated men who let a good property slip through his hands keeping stores of different kinds in various places. He says, 'I can't make good. I attend to business and work hard, and I've never been at all extravagant. It is plain to see and many others that he hasn't the practical qualities—the his business. But he doesn't realize that he needs in his skill in buying or the ability to make people pay up that are needed in his to study himself. He thinks because he is well educated and intelligent as others who do make a success, that it must be just bad luck. And yet found himself mediocre in business. He studied himself and the business and decided that one of his greatest assets in college had been his ability to size men up, and asked to be transferred to the hiring department where he made a decided success."

"Know thyself" is a maxim which applies to many of the relations of life and not least pertinently to business.

Why One Man Failed. "We often see failures and successes side by side in the same business," he says, "and almost always well educated men who let a good property slip through his hands keeping stores of different kinds in various places. He says, 'I can't make good. I attend to business and work hard, and I've never been at all extravagant. It is plain to see and many others that he hasn't the practical qualities—the his business. But he doesn't realize that he needs in his skill in buying or the ability to make people pay up that are needed in his to study himself. He thinks because he is well educated and intelligent as others who do make a success, that it must be just bad luck. And yet found himself mediocre in business. He studied himself and the business and decided that one of his greatest assets in college had been his ability to size men up, and asked to be transferred to the hiring department where he made a decided success."

"Know thyself" is a maxim which applies to many of the relations of life and not least pertinently to business.

Why One Man Failed. "We often see failures and successes side by side in the same business," he says, "and almost always well educated men who let a good property slip through his hands keeping stores of different kinds in various places. He says, 'I can't make good. I attend to business and work hard, and I've never been at all extravagant. It is plain to see and many others that he hasn't the practical qualities—the his business. But he doesn't realize that he needs in his skill in buying or the ability to make people pay up that are needed in his to study himself. He thinks because he is well educated and intelligent as others who do make a success, that it must be just bad luck. And yet found himself mediocre in business. He studied himself and the business and decided that one of his greatest assets in college had been his ability to size men up, and asked to be transferred to the hiring department where he made a decided success."

"Know thyself" is a maxim which applies to many of the relations of life and not least pertinently to business.

Why One Man Failed. "We often see failures and successes side by side in the same business," he says, "and almost always well educated men who let a good property slip through his hands keeping stores of different kinds in various places. He says, 'I can't make good. I attend to business and work hard, and I've never been at all extravagant. It is plain to see and many others that he hasn't the practical qualities—the his business. But he doesn't realize that he needs in his skill in buying or the ability to make people pay up that are needed in his to study himself. He thinks because he is well educated and intelligent as others who do make a success, that it must be just bad luck. And yet found himself mediocre in business. He studied himself and the business and decided that one of his greatest assets in college had been his ability to size men up, and asked to be transferred to the hiring department where he made a decided success."

"Know thyself" is a maxim which applies to many of the relations of life and not least pertinently to business.

Why One Man Failed. "We often see failures and successes side by side in the same business," he says, "and almost always well educated men who let a good property slip through his hands keeping stores of different kinds in various places. He says, 'I can't make good. I attend to business and work hard, and I've never been at all extravagant. It is plain to see and many others that he hasn't the practical qualities—the his business. But he doesn't realize that he needs in his skill in buying or the ability to make people pay up that are needed in his to study himself. He thinks because he is well educated and intelligent as others who do make a success, that it must be just bad luck. And yet found himself mediocre in business. He studied himself and the business and decided that one of his greatest assets in college had been his ability to size men up, and asked to be transferred to the hiring department where he made a decided success."

"Know thyself" is a maxim which applies to many of the relations of life and not least pertinently to business.

Why One Man Failed. "We often see failures and successes side by side in the same business," he says, "and almost always well educated men who let a good property slip through his hands keeping stores of different kinds in various places. He says, 'I can't make good. I attend to business and work hard, and I've never been at all extravagant. It is plain to see and many others that he hasn't the practical qualities—the his business. But he doesn't realize that he needs in his skill in buying or the ability to make people pay up that are needed in his to study himself. He thinks because he is well educated and intelligent as others who do make a success, that it must be just bad luck. And yet found himself mediocre in business. He studied himself and the business and decided that one of his greatest assets in college had been his ability to size men up, and asked to be transferred to the hiring department where he made a decided success."

"Know thyself" is a maxim which applies to many of the relations of life and not least pertinently to business.

Why One Man Failed. "We often see failures and successes side by side in the same business," he says, "and almost always well educated men who let a good property slip through his hands keeping stores of different kinds in various places. He says, 'I can't make good. I attend to business and work hard, and I've never been at all extravagant. It is plain to see and many others that he hasn't the practical qualities—the his business. But he doesn't realize that he needs in his skill in buying or the ability to make people pay up that are needed in his to study himself. He thinks because he is well educated and intelligent as others who do make a success, that it must be just bad luck. And yet found himself mediocre in business. He studied himself and the business and decided that one of his greatest assets in college had been his ability to size men up, and asked to be transferred to the hiring department where he made a decided success."

"Know thyself" is a maxim which applies to many of the relations of life and not least pertinently to business.

Why One Man Failed. "We often see failures and successes side by side in the same business," he says, "and almost always well educated men who let a good property slip through his hands keeping stores of different kinds in various places. He says, 'I can't make good. I attend to business and work hard, and I've never been at all extravagant. It is plain to see and many others that he hasn't the practical qualities—the his business. But he doesn't realize that he needs in his skill in buying or the ability to make people pay up that are needed in his to study himself. He thinks because he is well educated and intelligent as others who do make a success, that it must be just bad luck. And yet found himself mediocre in business. He studied himself and the business and decided that one of his greatest assets in college had been his ability to size men up, and asked to be transferred to the hiring department where he made a decided success."

"Know thyself" is a maxim which applies to many of the relations of life and not least pertinently to business.

Why One Man Failed. "We often see failures and successes side by side in the same business," he says, "and almost always well educated men who let a good property slip through his hands keeping stores of different kinds in various places. He says, 'I can't make good. I attend to business and work hard, and I've never been at all extravagant. It is plain to see and many others that he hasn't the practical qualities—the his business. But he doesn't realize that he needs in his skill in buying or the ability to make people pay up that are needed in his to study himself. He thinks because he is well educated and intelligent as others who do make a success, that it must be just bad luck. And yet found himself mediocre in business. He studied himself and the business and decided that one of his greatest assets in college had been his ability to size men up, and asked to be transferred to the hiring department where he made a decided success."

"Know thyself" is a maxim which applies to many of the relations of life and not least pertinently to business.

Why One Man Failed. "We often see failures and successes side by side in the same business," he says, "and almost always well educated men who let a good property slip through his hands keeping stores of different kinds in various places. He says, 'I can't make good. I attend to business and work hard, and I've never been at all extravagant. It is plain to see and many others that he hasn't the practical qualities—the his business. But he doesn't realize that he needs in his skill in buying or the ability to make people pay up that are needed in his to study himself. He thinks because he is well educated and intelligent as others who do make a success, that it must be just bad luck. And yet found himself mediocre in business. He studied himself and the business and decided that one of his greatest assets in college had been his ability to size men up, and asked to be transferred to the hiring department where he made a decided success."

"Know thyself" is a maxim which applies to many of the relations of life and not least pertinently to business.

Why One Man Failed. "We often see failures and successes side by side in the same business," he says, "and almost always well educated men who let a good property slip through his hands keeping stores of different kinds in various places. He says, 'I can't make good. I attend to business and work hard, and I've never been at all extravagant. It is plain to see and many others that he hasn't the practical qualities—the his business. But he doesn't realize that he needs in his skill in buying or the ability to make people pay up that are needed in his to study himself. He thinks because he is well educated and intelligent as others who do make a success, that it must be just bad luck. And yet found himself mediocre in business. He studied himself and the business and decided that one of his greatest assets in college had been his ability to size men up, and asked to be transferred to the hiring department where he made a decided success."

"Know thyself" is a maxim which applies to many of the relations of life and not least pertinently to business.

Why One Man Failed. "We often see failures and successes side by side in the same business," he says, "and almost always well educated men who let a good property slip through his hands keeping stores of different kinds in various places. He says, 'I can't make good. I attend to business and work hard, and I've never been at all extravagant. It is plain to see and many others that he hasn't the practical qualities—the his business. But he doesn't realize that he needs in his skill in buying or the ability to make people pay up that are needed in his to study himself. He thinks because he is well educated and intelligent as others who do make a success, that it must be just bad luck. And yet found himself mediocre in business. He studied himself and the business and decided that one of his greatest assets in college had been his ability to size men up, and asked to be transferred to the hiring department where he made a decided success."

"Know thyself" is a maxim which applies to many of the relations of life and not least pertinently to business.

Why One Man Failed. "We often see failures and successes side by side in the same business," he says, "and almost always well educated men who let a good property slip through his hands keeping stores of different kinds in various places. He says, 'I can't make good. I attend to business and work hard, and I've never been at all extravagant. It is plain to see and many others that he hasn't the practical qualities—the his business. But he doesn't realize that he needs in his skill in buying or the ability to make people pay up that are needed in his to study himself. He thinks because he is well educated and intelligent as others who do make a success, that it must be just bad luck. And yet found himself mediocre in business. He studied himself and the business and decided that one of his greatest assets in college had been his ability to size men up, and asked to be transferred to the hiring department where he made a decided success."

"Know thyself" is a maxim which applies to many of the relations of life and not least pertinently to business.

Why One Man Failed. "We often see failures and successes side by side in the same business," he says, "and almost always well educated men who let a good property slip through his hands keeping stores of different kinds in various places. He says, 'I can't make good. I attend to business and work hard, and I've never been at all extravagant. It is plain to see and many others that he hasn't the practical qualities—the his business. But he doesn't realize that he needs in his skill in buying or the ability to make people pay up that are needed in his to study himself. He thinks because he is well educated and intelligent as others who do make a success, that it must be just bad luck. And yet found himself mediocre in business. He studied himself and the business and decided that one of his greatest assets in college had been his ability to size men up, and asked to be transferred to the hiring department where he made a decided success."

"Know thyself" is a maxim which applies to many of the relations of life and not least pertinently to business.

Why One Man Failed. "We often see failures and successes side by side in the same business," he says, "and almost always well educated men who let a good property slip through his hands keeping stores of different kinds in various places. He says, 'I can't make good. I attend to business and work hard, and I've never been at all extravagant. It is plain to see and many others that he hasn't the practical qualities—the his business. But he doesn't realize that he needs in his skill in buying or the ability to make people pay up that are needed in his to study himself. He thinks because he is well educated and intelligent as others who do make a success, that it must be just bad luck. And yet found himself mediocre in business. He studied himself and the business and decided that one of his greatest assets in college had been his ability to size men up, and asked to be transferred to the hiring department where he made a decided success."

"Know thyself" is a maxim which applies to many of the relations of life and not least pertinently to business.

Why One Man Failed. "We often see failures and successes side by side in the same business," he says, "and almost always well educated men who let a good property slip through his hands keeping stores of different kinds in various places. He says, 'I can't make good. I attend to business and work hard, and I've never been at all extravagant. It is plain to see and many others that he hasn't the practical qualities—the his business. But he doesn't realize that he needs in his skill in buying or the ability to make people pay up that are needed in his to study himself. He thinks because he is well educated and intelligent as others who do make a success, that it must be just bad luck. And yet found himself mediocre in business. He studied himself and the business and decided that one of his greatest assets in college had been his ability to size men up, and asked to be transferred to the hiring department where he made a decided success."

"Know thyself" is a maxim which applies to many of the relations of life and not least pertinently to business.

Why One Man Failed. "We often see failures and successes side by side in the same business," he says, "and almost always well educated men who let a good property slip through his hands keeping stores of different kinds in various places. He says, 'I can't make good. I attend to business and work hard, and I've never been at all extravagant. It is plain to see and many others that he hasn't the practical qualities—the his business. But he doesn't realize that he needs in his skill in buying or the ability to make people pay up that are needed in his to study himself. He thinks because he is well educated and intelligent as others who do make a success, that it must be just bad luck. And yet found himself mediocre in business. He studied himself and the business and decided that one of his greatest assets in college had been his ability to size men up, and asked to be transferred to the hiring department where he made a decided success."

slice potatoes, cut celery in 1/4-inch pieces. Put chicken and pork in frying pan and fry till done. Add sliced onions, next mushrooms. Now pour enough sauce over ingredients to make them brown. Add water and stew a few minutes; later add celery, then the potatoes. Cook rice and add just before the whole is thickened with flour and water to make gravy.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) How can hairs be removed from the face other than by the electric needle? (2) Also please tell me how to hold up a wrinkled neck, a hole under the chin, etc.

(3) Please tell me how to refine the complexion—the skin rather—mine is full of enlarged pores.

(4) Will you tell me something about the hands that do all kinds of housework? MRS. M. R.

This formula is said to be as harmless as any, but do not recommend using outward applications except peroxide, which whitens the hair and so makes them less noticeable. 1/4 oz. quick lime, 1/2 oz. carbonate of soda, 2 oz. lard. Make into paste and allowed to remain on skin for 15 minutes, then washed off with soap and tepid water.

(2) The treatment for the neck consists in first washing it in water as hot as can be borne for three or four minutes, then cover throat with lotion made from the yolk of a fresh egg, a tablespoon of sweet oil of almonds, a teaspoonful of tincture of benzoin, and two teaspoonfuls rose water. Then massage can be started. Use both hands and rotary motion, using the tips of the fingers. Making upward stroke strong. The base of the throat must not be neglected. Rub most the very center of the throat to stimulate muscles, then stretch flesh by beginning under chin and pulling up hard toward ears.

(3) A lotion for enlarged pores is made of 1 oz. tincture benzoin, 1/2 pt. pure alcohol. Use it to clean the face instead of water. Let it dry on.

(4) The lotion in No. 2 is good for the hands. The following should be kept on the kitchen sink and put on every time the hands are wiped after being in water: 2 oz. glycerine, 1 oz. glycerine, 20 drops carbolic acid. Hands are very dry use equal parts of glycerine and bay rum with the carbolic.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young girl of fifteen and I am only five feet one inch tall. How can I increase my height? G. S.

My dear girl, you are plenty tall enough for your age. Good vigorous exercise in the open air, deep breathing and plenty of sleep are the best producers of growth.

claimed Mrs. Wright with disgust in her tone.

"Advertise! How?" asked Mrs. Gibson.

"I did not see the paper. The first I knew a respectable looking man was hanging about the place. Mr. Wright was about to telephone to the police station one evening when Amanda said, 'don't, Mr. Wright. He is my beau, and I'm waiting for me to finish my work and come for a walk. I shall never forget the ring of pride in her voice. Although I did not like the man's looks, the change in Amanda was so markedly for the better that I said nothing. She said he worked for Sibley & Grant, in the paint mixing department, and soon through Grace, my fourteen-year-old, who was her confidant, I learned that they were to be married. She had a little over $200 in the bank, the savings of years. When Grace told me this was going into a home, I took a huge leap and by all means to hang onto her money and use it to furnish a home but I might as well have saved my breath. He wanted the money and he got it—though she said nothing about it to me at the time.

"One evening Grace ran to me greatly excited. She had the morning paper in her hand.

"Amanda's man has been arrested," she exclaimed. Sure enough on looking at the paper I found he had been caught trying to pick a lock in Sibley & Grant's office the night before and he was in jail. Poor Amanda was crushed. Then it was that I learned about her $200. Really, she did not mind the loss of the money so much as the loss of her position as an engaged young woman. She ran into such gloom that I had her away, while Edith took her off my hands. Edith knew how to cheer her up, and when the baby came she emphasized the contrast in preparation for the birth of a child, but advertise for a husband!" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"She was well and strong and had place to work. She was treated with consideration. You must see off. But all counted for nothing. Because she had no sweetheart, her preparations for Edith's wedding emphasized the contrast in preparation for the birth of a child, but advertise for a husband!" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

Glimpses of Married Life

BY MRS. EVA LEONARD

"Let me see, I have seen you since your daughter Edith's baby came?" said Mrs. Wright, as she slipped her tea.

"So much has happened since then," said Mrs. Gibson, "I can't remember."

"Has Edith a good man?"

"She has a good man," replied Mrs. Gibson.

"Who is he?"

"Why, don't you remember that queer man that we had for two or three years?"

"I went about carrying a tin of paint with me, and he was a real paint mixer."

"What was the matter with her?" asked the hostess.

"Oh, nobody loved her," and she didn't amount to anything, and so on. She would not eat proper food; she would stand by the stove and eat out of the frying pan instead of setting her table in decent fashion. When I remonstrated with her, she said gloomily: 'It's good enough for me. I ain't anybody.'"

"Poor thing, what did life hold for her?" asked Mrs. Gibson.

"She was well and strong and had place to work. She was treated with consideration. You must see off. But all counted for nothing. Because she had no sweetheart, her preparations for Edith's wedding emphasized the contrast in preparation for the birth of a child, but advertise for a husband!" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

"What did the girl do but advertise for a husband?" exclaimed Mrs. Gibson.

Household Hints

RECIPES SAVING FLOUR.

Potato Doughnuts—Five good-sized potatoes boiled and mashed, one teaspoon butter, two cups sugar. Mix white hot and beat with egg. Cool, add three eggs (beaten), one cup sweet milk, pinch of salt and nutmeg.

Potato Fritters—Boil and mash five medium potatoes, add 1/2 cup butter, one-half teaspoon salt, a tablespoon lard, one cup sweet milk. Beat three eggs and add them after milk and five cups flour. Five teaspoons baking powder, nutmeg to taste. Fry in hot fat. Roll in powdered sugar.

Gingersnaps—One and one-half cups cracker crumbs (after frying out lard), one cup molasses, one cup strong black coffee, one teaspoon ground cinnamon, one teaspoon ground ginger, two teaspoons baking soda dissolved in one tablespoon vinegar, one teaspoon salt, one-half cup brown sugar, flour enough to make dough stiff and enough to roll out. Bake in moderate oven. The crackers cannot be noticed.

Cocunut Macaroons—Beat whites of four eggs stiff, add one pound pulverized sugar, one round coconut. Roll in small balls, put in butter, then flour, pan. Bake a light brown.

Oatmeal Macaroons—Two tablespoons butter, one cup sugar, two eggs, one teaspoon baking powder. Cream butter and sugar, add eggs, rolled oats and baking powder. Bake in hot oven until brown and crisp.

Fruit Snaps—One and one-half cups sugar, one-half cup molasses, one cup chopped raisins, two cups currants, one cup lard, three eggs, one teaspoon soda, one-half teaspoon each of ginger, cinnamon and nutmeg, one-fourth teaspoon cloves. Salt to taste and mix stiff. They are fine.

Johnnycakes—One-third cup sugar, three cups corn meal, one egg, butter size of walnut, one cup sour milk, one cup flour, one teaspoon soda, pinch of salt. Mix egg, sugar and butter, add milk and soda, then corn meal and flour.

Rice Pie Crust—Put one-fourth cup rice into one cup water with a pinch of salt. It is best to use double boiler. Press boiled rice into shape of an under crust into pie pan.

let it stand until it jellies. Make lemon or cream filling, put into rice crust. Cover with meringue and brown lightly in oven. It can be served cold and will hold its shape perfectly. Serve cold.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

On muslin cover to put over comforter to keep it from getting soiled, instead of sewing buttons on comforter and making button loops on slip, use medium size patent clasps. They are used on dresses and skirts. Sew clasp with small head, on to comforter. By doing this, the slip can be washed easily without ruining the wringer; also, it looks much neater and cover can be easily removed.

To Mend China—Make a very thick solution of water, stir into it plaster of paris until mixture becomes the consistency of cream. Apply to broken edges and join together in the days the article cannot be broken in the same place.

SOME SWISS DISHES.

Swiss Patties—Take the trimmings of puff or plain pie crust, roll out and line the patty pans with it. Prick bottom of each crust to prevent bulging. Bake shells till crisp. At serving time put together a cup of milk, bay leaf, slice of onion, sprig of parsley, a clove; boil three minutes. Rub two level tablespoons each of butter and soup together. Strain milk into this and cook till smooth. Add two egg yolks, three spoonfuls grated cheese and dash of cayenne. Fill patties with this and dust top of each with cheese. Bake in oven to melt cheese and serve at once. These are fine for a luncheon or with the salad course.

Swiss Fondue—Cover one cup stale bread crumbs with one pint milk. Add two eggs beaten into this, one-half cup chopped cheese, one-half teaspoon salt, dash of cayenne, salt- spoon of baking soda dissolved in well and bake in quick oven till a light brown.

Swiss Rarebit—Very nutritious. Grate or chop one-half pound cheese. Toast and butter six slices bread. Put three slices in pan, cover with half the cheese, dust with salt and pepper. Put the other three slices over this and remainder of cheese. Four or five minutes in hot oven twenty minutes. Serves six people.

Swiss Rarebit—Very nutritious. Grate or chop one-half pound cheese. Toast and butter six slices bread. Put three slices in pan, cover with half the cheese, dust with salt and pepper. Put the other three slices over this and remainder of cheese. Four or five minutes in hot oven twenty minutes. Serves six people.

Swiss Rarebit—Very nutritious. Grate or chop one-half pound cheese. Toast and butter six slices bread. Put three slices in pan, cover with half the cheese, dust with salt and pepper. Put the other three slices over this and remainder of cheese. Four or five minutes in hot oven twenty minutes. Serves six people.

Swiss Rarebit—Very nutritious. Grate or chop one-half pound cheese. Toast and butter six slices bread. Put three slices in pan, cover with half the cheese, dust with salt and pepper. Put the other three slices over this and remainder of cheese. Four or five minutes in hot oven twenty minutes. Serves six people.

Swiss Rarebit—Very nutritious. Grate or chop one-half pound cheese. Toast and butter six slices bread. Put three slices in pan, cover with half the cheese, dust with salt and pepper. Put the other three slices over this and remainder of cheese. Four or five minutes in hot oven twenty minutes. Serves six people.

Swiss Rarebit—Very nutritious. Grate or chop one-half pound cheese. Toast and butter six slices bread. Put three slices in pan, cover with half the cheese, dust with salt and pepper. Put the other three slices over this and remainder of cheese. Four or five minutes in hot oven twenty minutes. Serves six people.

Swiss Rarebit—Very nutritious. Grate or chop one-half pound cheese. Toast and butter six slices bread. Put three slices in pan, cover with half the cheese, dust with salt and pepper. Put the other three slices over this and remainder of cheese. Four or five minutes in hot oven twenty minutes. Serves six people.

Swiss Rarebit—Very nutritious. Grate or chop one-half pound cheese. Toast and butter six slices bread. Put three slices in pan, cover with half the cheese, dust with salt and pepper. Put the other three slices over this and remainder of cheese. Four or five minutes in hot oven twenty minutes. Serves six people.

Swiss Rarebit—Very nutritious. Grate or chop one-half pound cheese. Toast and butter six slices bread. Put three slices in pan, cover with half the cheese, dust with salt and pepper. Put the other three slices over this and remainder of cheese. Four or five minutes in hot oven twenty minutes. Serves six people.

Swiss Rarebit—Very nutritious. Grate or chop one-half pound cheese. Toast and butter six slices bread. Put three slices in pan, cover with half the cheese, dust with salt and pepper. Put the other three slices over this and remainder of cheese. Four or five minutes in hot oven twenty minutes. Serves six people.

Swiss Rarebit—Very nutritious. Grate or chop one-half pound cheese. Toast and butter six slices bread. Put three slices in pan, cover with half the cheese, dust with salt and pepper. Put the other three slices over this and remainder of cheese. Four or five minutes in hot oven twenty minutes. Serves six people.

Swiss Rarebit—Very nutritious. Grate or chop one-half pound cheese. Toast and butter six slices bread. Put three slices in pan, cover with half the cheese, dust with salt and pepper. Put the other three slices over this and remainder of cheese. Four or five minutes in hot oven twenty minutes. Serves six people.

MISS AGNES TEWS WEDS

FRANK DAVIS OF NEWARK

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

KANSAS LABOR LAW UPSET IN DECISION

Supreme Court Holds Employer Can Require Agreement From Employees Not to Join Union.

Washington, Jan. 26.—The Kansas so-called coercion statute making it unlawful for an individual or corporation to coerce or influence any person to enter into an agreement not to join or to remain a member of a labor organization as a condition of such person securing or retaining employment of such individual or corporation, was annulled on Monday as unconstitutional by the supreme court.

The decision was regarded as the first important test case in the world, and was announced by Justice Pitney. Strong dissenting opinions were given by Justices Holmes and Day. Justice Hughes concurred with Justice Day, having chief justice White and Justices McKenna, Van Devanter, McReynolds and Lamar concurring with Justice Pitney.

Fourteen other states have passed laws similar to the one in question. "The court intimates nothing inconsistent with the right of individuals to join labor unions," said Justice Pitney. "Nor is the legitimacy of such organizations questioned so far as they conform with the laws of the land as others are required to do, but the individual has no inherent right to join the union and still remain in the employ of one who wishes to employ a union man any more than the same individual has a right to join the union without the consent of that organization."

Other labor organizations have the inherent and constitutional right to deny membership to any man who will not agree that during such membership he will not accept or retain employment with any employer who is a union man, and just as a union man has the constitutional right to decline proffered employment unless the employer will agree not to employ any non-union man, so the employer may ask that the employee shall refrain from affiliation with the union during the term of employment.

"There cannot be one rule of liberty of the labor organization, or its members, and a different and more restrictive rule for employers."

MASSEURS ASK LAW REQUIRING LICENSE

Janesville Man on Committee Which Sent Day at Madison Interviewing Lawmakers.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 26.—Senator E. T. Fairchild of Milwaukee, has been asked by the Wisconsin committee of the Wisconsin Association of Masseurs and Masseuses to introduce a bill which will place their profession on a higher plane. The committee in Madison today to interview members of the legislature regarding the terms of the proposed new measure.

Under the terms of the bill members of the massage profession will be licensed after successfully passing an examination to be given by the state board of health. This examination will cover the subjects of anatomy, physiology, hydrotherapy, and massage. To those passing the examination a degree and a certificate will be awarded. Those who have failed to pass the examination will be permitted to retake the examination at a later date.

It is ultimately planned to ask the university to establish a course along these lines, which require two or three years of study of the subjects of anatomy, physiology, hydrotherapy, and massage. The bill has been prepared by the legislative committee of the association composed of E. J. Peterson, E. J. Peterson, John Ebbel and O. C. Wickstrom, all of Milwaukee; G. M. Larson, Janesville; Christian Anderson, Racine and Sarah von Wald, Kenosha.

WISCONSIN EXHIBIT FOR FAIR ARRANGED

Agricultural Resources of State Will Be Strikingly Displayed at San Francisco Show.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 26.—Visitors thronged the museum room of the college of agriculture Wednesday and Thursday to see the graphic portrayal of Wisconsin's agricultural resources to be packed tomorrow for shipment to the Panama-Pacific exposition. It will be installed in the agricultural palace on the Golden Gate grounds. By painting and photography Wisconsin's greatest industry has been strikingly reviewed for the eye of the hurried visitor to the fair building. Wherever possible comparison of Wisconsin's crop yields and values with those of adjoining states have been given, and in almost all instances this state leads.

Wisconsin produces oats, for example, yield 36 bushels per acre, value $13, while Illinois, Iowa, Indiana and Minnesota yield 24, 24, 21 and 23 bushels, respectively, with a respective value of $8, $12, $8 and $12 per acre.

The exhibit notes that half of the cheese factories in the United States are in Wisconsin, that over 50 per cent of the state's population live on farms or in small villages, that the increase in value of farm products from 1900 to 1910 was $600,000,000, or 74 per cent; that 85 per cent of Wisconsin's population live on farms.

What Cures Eczema?

We have had so many inquiries lately regarding Eczema and other skin diseases, that we have decided to answer public. After careful investigation we have found that a simple wash in D. D. Prescription can be relied upon. We would not make this statement unless we were sure of it. Eczema is a skin disease which is caused by a bacteria. All druggists have D. D. Prescription. Ask also about D. D. Soap.

J. P. Baker, Druggist,
123 W. Milwaukee St.

23 Million Dollars Lost
By means of raised checks that were not protected. Will you be the next victim? Not if you use the

PEERLESS CHECK WRITER
Endorsed by the United States Government and thousands of business houses.
Ask for demonstration.

H. E. MORRILL
MYERS HOTEL.

consin farms are operated by owners; that Wisconsin is ideally located near the world's greatest markets for farm products, with outlets at Superior, Duluth, Green Bay, Manitowish, Milwaukee, Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis.

L. F. Graber will leave for San Francisco Saturday to set up Wisconsin's agricultural exhibit.

GIVE COMPENSATION TO JANESVILLE MAN

Award of $1,492 Made to I. N. Lovelace, Injured While in Employ of Sugar Company.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Jan. 26.—A lump award of $1,492 was today given to I. N. Lovelace of Janesville under dictation of the industrial commission.

The payment will be made by the Rock County Sugar Company. Lovelace was injured Oct. 10, 1913. A water-hose wound around a revolving wheel and the nozzle struck him in the face, arm and on the body. He was permanently disabled, and drew regular compensation of $9.37 a week until Jan. 9 last, when the commission was asked to award a lump sum for full compensation.

The commission announced that it will hold hearings in La Crosse Feb. 1, when it will take up the case of Alice Voiles against the village of West Salem. Mrs. Voiles' husband was deported by the city marshal to assist in arresting a man and was shot in the attempt. The question arising is that whether in being deported he was in the employ of the municipality, eligible to workmen's compensation for accidental injury.

Among other cases to be heard is that of Mrs. James Shaw vs. the Heilmann Brewing Company; John Schneider vs. La Crosse Gas & Electric Company, and Morris Christensen vs. C. E. Thompson.

ENGLAND HAS TROUBLE GETTING ROAD MATERIAL.

[Correspondence of The A. P.]
London, Jan. 26.—England is having difficulty in getting material for construction and repair of its roads. In normal times, granite which forms the basis of most of the heavy-traffic highways is obtained from Belgium and Norway. The Belgian supply is now entirely cut off, and Norwegian imports are reduced owing to high freight rates and closure of ports on the East coast. The heavy use of some of the important roads during the past few months for military transport makes the need for reconstruction urgent.

STENOGRAPHERS SEEK JOBS WITH UNCLE SAM

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, Jan. 26.—Stenographers and typewriters for the government service are being examined throughout the country today. The entrance salary averages $720 a year. Thousands are being examined.

Evansville News

Evansville, Jan. 26.—Miss Jessie Jones pleasantly entertained twenty young friends at her home Friday evening. A dainty supper was served and the evening passed all too swiftly. There was music and parlor games.

The I. O. O. F. lodge entertained at a dance Saturday night, over seventy-five being present and reporting a pleasant time.

A. Lawson, traveling representative of the Western Vaudeville Managers Association of Chicago, was in the city yesterday, attempting to secure a booking for five acts for the big Rock County Fair for 1915.

Mrs. Jane Shergar suffered a bad fall on the icy pavement in front of her home breaking her ankle badly. Dr. Smith was called to attend and she is as comfortable as can be under the circumstances.

Dr. and Mrs. George Spencer entertained sixteen guests at dinner Sunday.

Mark Webb was an Oconomowoc visitor the latter part of the week. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Devine attended a funeral at Belleville Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Liston of Janesville, spent the week end with the late parents, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Sherry of this city.

Rev. D. Q. Graber left today for Chicago, where he is attending the automobile show.

G. L. Porter of Chicago, is spending a few days in town on business. Bert Baker, Milo Gillies, C. G. Colony and R. M. Antes spent Sunday in Janesville.

Lozier Bullard was a Janesville visitor Sunday night.

Miss Edith Benway of Chicago, is visiting her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Franklin of this city.

Merrill Ayres was a Janesville business visitor yesterday.

G. H. Harvard of Magnolia, was a business visitor in the city yesterday. Adon Juchinger made a business trip to Janesville yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Keenan spent yesterday in Beloit with friends.

ROLES IN "ROSALIND" ARE CLEVERLY TAKEN

Fine Acting Is Displayed by Cast in Short Play at Drama Club Meeting.—Other Notes.

A large representation from the membership of the Janesville Drama society attended the regular session of the club last evening, and witnessed the presentation of J. M. Barry's short play, "Rosalind," which was well acted out, with a stage setting. The cast comprised but three characters, they being Harold Jones, Mrs. O. E. Oestreich and Miss Ella Jacobson.

Every member of the cast displayed an earnestness in the work set before them, and the roles which are all difficult, were cleverly acted out. Mrs. Oestreich took the roles of Mrs. Page and her daughter, Beatrice. The play dealt with an actress, whom Charles believed was no more than twenty-five years of age, when as a fact, Beatrice was over forty. Dame Quigley, as Mrs. Page's housemaid, took the role splendidly. The cast was taken as follows:

Mrs. Page..... Mrs. O. E. Oestreich
Charles..... Harold Jones
Dame Quigley..... Ella Jacobson

"Rosalind," the second act of "Disraeli," was read by a cast composed of six characters. The play's chances for a successful acting, and the good and bad qualities in the construction of the production are all points of interest taken by the members.

Little business was transacted last evening, but what was brought up was very important. Mrs. Day, director, read a list of plays that might be given, if casts could be fitted to them. "The Lovers" and "Midsummer Night's Dream" were the more important plays discussed.

General opinion of the members is to give a production that is more modern, believing that it would better meet the desire of the general public. The latter play mentioned was written by Shakespeare. It is presumed a play will be chosen at an early date, and the preparatory work can be commenced earlier than the actors began preparation last spring.

MOORE WILL ATTEND GOOD ROADS SCHOOL

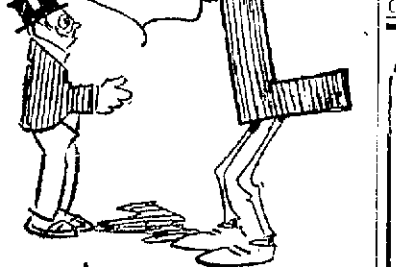

Rock County Highway Commissioner
Will Take Part in Program at Next Week's Convention.

County Highway Commissioner C. E. Moore will be one of the speakers at the fourth annual good roads school which will be held next week at Madison under the auspices of the state highway commission. In connection with the good roads school will be held the fourth annual meeting of the Wisconsin county highway commissioners' association. Moore will lead in the discussion on road building methods on Wednesday morning and will also take part in the discussion on gravel macadam. The convention opens on Monday, February 1 and closes on Friday. Governor E. L. Phillips will deliver the address of welcome.

STATE OF WISCONSIN,
Circuit Court for Rock County.
William H. Palmer, Plaintiff, vs.
George M. Decker, Panola L. Decker,
Eva Decker, Florence Child, United States Fidelity & Guaranty Company,
Bower City Bank, E. H. Peterson and Janesville Motor Company, Defendants.

THE STATE OF WISCONSIN TO
SAID DEFENDANTS: You are hereby summoned to appear within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service, and defend the above entitled action in the court aforesaid, and in case of your failure so to do, judgment will be rendered against you according to the demand of the complaint, of which a copy is herewith served upon you.

Jeffrey, Mounsey, Oestreich & Avery,
Plaintiff's Attorneys.
P. O. Address, No. 12 West Milwaukee St., Janesville, Rock County, Wis.
(The plaintiff's verified complaint in the above entitled action is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court.)

What European country?

HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils
Opens Air Passages Right Up.

Instant relief—no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe freely. No more yawning, snuffling, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

Got a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed-up with a cold or nasty catarrh.

WHEN you store up a portion of the rewards of your toil you create capital and build up a fund which will support you and those dependent upon you, or provide you with means to increase your earnings still farther.

THE BANK OF EVANSVILLE

Founded 1870.
GEO. L. PULLEN, President.

COURT SOUGHT PEACE INSTEAD OF A TRIAL

To effect a reconciliation between Mr. and Mrs. Myron Boob of Edgerton was the purpose of the united efforts of District Attorney S. G. Dunwiddie and Attorney John L. Fisher and Judge H. L. Maxfield in the municipal court this morning when the husband was arraigned for desertion. His wife, Pearl, maintained in the warrant that he had neglected to support her and her infant son, who were forced to live with Mrs. Boob's parents in Edgerton.

The case was not called in court, but according to the arguments advanced by the attorneys before the judge, things have not been rosy with happiness in the Boob family because of too much father and mother-in-law. Mrs. Boob would not go to Freeport nor would the husband do likewise in Edgerton. The court advised that they go to a "neutral" city and make amends.

Wife charged husband with paying too much attention to card playing and that the whereabouts was not forthcoming for support. Boob was arrested yesterday at Freeport, Minn., by Deputy William Wogan, and brought to the county jail last evening.

Mrs. Boob was formerly Miss Pearl Stewart and resided in Janesville for some time several years ago.

For Pile Sufferers

Sample Package of the Famous Pyramid Pile Remedy Now Offered Free to Prove What It Will Do for You.

Pyramid Pile Remedy stops itching, bleeding or protruding piles, hemorrhoids and all rectal troubles in the privacy of your own home. Box at all druggists. A single box often cures. Free sample for trial with booklet mailed free in plain wrapper, if you send us coupon below.

FREE SAMPLE COUPON
PYRAMID PILE REMEDY CO.,
610 Pyramid Bldg., Marshall, Mich.
Kindly send me a Free sample of Pyramid Pile Remedy, in plain wrapper.

Name.....
Street.....
City..... State.....

ANY SUIT IN THE STORE
$7.50

Great variety to choose from

ADVANCE STYLES IN WOOL DRESSES
$7.45, $8.87 & $11.75

SALE OF EVENING DRESSES

50 beautiful, dainty evening dresses are marked for a quick clearance. Just the frock with which to finish out the season. Formerly priced at double and more. In one lot $12.50

Special Lot $3.75 Not as large assortment as the above lot but each an exceptional bargain.

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

Visit Our
Bargain
Basement

A Few Specials From The Big Store

SPECIAL
SALE OF
SILK PET-TICOATS

at $1.98

ONE LOT of Silk Messaline and Tussah Petticoats in colors, made with deep flounce, good value at $2.50, special.....$1.98

ONE BIG LOT of White Lingerie Waists in Lawn, Crepe Voile, etc., nicely trimmed in embroidery and lace; worth $1.25, at.....98c

3 Big Specials
in Silk Waists

We are offering some wonderful bargains in fancy Silk Waists. Ask to see them at $1.98, $2.98 and $3.98.

ART DEPARTMENT

Fancy Colored Turkish Stamped Towels, at.....59c
Turkish Towels stamped for Combing Jackets, at.....50c
Stamped Children's Dresses, at.....25c and 50c
Stamped Night Gowns, at.....50c
Stamped Pillow Cases, pair.....50c
Stamped Pillows, at.....29c
Stamped Dresser Scarfs, all linen, at.....29c

Sweeping Reductions in Suits and Coats

Our entire stock of Women's and Misses' Tailor-made Suits, take your choice at.....$7.25 and $10.00

Simpson's GARMENT STORE.

When we take inventory we want our cases cleared of our present stock of

Coats, Suits and Dresses

We have marked them so low that they are going rapidly.

25 COATS $5.00

Values to $15. Misses, Ladies and Junior sizes

60 COATS $7.45

Values to $18 and $20. All nobby, up-to-date styles

85 COATS $15.50

Values up to $25. These coats are out of the ordinary

ANY SUIT IN THE STORE $7.50

Great variety to choose from

ADVANCE STYLES IN WOOL DRESSES $7.45, $8.87 & $11.75

SALE OF EVENING DRESSES

50 beautiful, dainty evening dresses are marked for a quick clearance. Just the frock with which to finish out the season. Formerly priced at double and more. In one lot $12.50

Special Lot $3.75 Not as large assortment as the above lot but each an exceptional bargain.

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

Visit Our
Bargain
Basement

A Few Specials From The Big Store

SPECIAL
SALE OF
SILK PET-TICOATS

at $1.98

ONE LOT of Silk Messaline and Tussah Petticoats in colors, made with deep flounce, good value at $2.50, special.....$1.98

ONE BIG LOT of White Lingerie Waists in Lawn, Crepe Voile, etc., nicely trimmed in embroidery and lace; worth $1.25, at.....98c

3 Big Specials
in Silk Waists

We are offering some wonderful bargains in fancy Silk Waists. Ask to see them at $1.98, $2.98 and $3.98.

ART DEPARTMENT

Fancy Colored Turkish Stamped Towels, at.....59c
Turkish Towels stamped for Combing Jackets, at.....50c
Stamped Children's Dresses, at.....25c and 50c
Stamped Night Gowns, at.....50c
Stamped Pillow Cases, pair.....50c
Stamped Pillows, at.....29c
Stamped Dresser Scarfs, all linen, at.....29c

Sweeping Reductions in Suits and Coats

Our entire stock of Women's and Misses' Tailor-made Suits, take your choice at.....$7.25 and $10.00

All Women's and Misses' Colored Cloth Coats on Sale at HALF PRICE.